

Should You Be An Entrepreneur?

1. I don't like being told what to do by people who are less capable than I am.
2. I like challenging myself.
3. I like to win.
4. I like being my own boss.
5. I always look for new and better ways to do things.
6. I like to question conventional wisdom.
7. I like to get people together in order to get things done.
8. People get excited by my ideas.
9. I am rarely satisfied or complacent.
10. I can't sit still.
11. I can usually work my way out of a difficult situation.
12. I would rather fail at my own thing than succeed at someone else's.
13. Whenever there is a problem, I am ready to jump right in.
14. I think old dogs can learn - even invent - new tricks.
15. Members of my family run their own businesses.
16. I have friends who run their own businesses.
17. I worked after school and during vacations when I was growing up.
18. I get an adrenaline rush from selling things.
19. I am exhilarated by achieving results.
20. I could have written a better test than Isenberg (and here is what I would change)

Do you have what it takes?

The Agurban is a free newsletter distributed each week to community and economic development professionals throughout the United States. Permission is hereby granted to forward, print, circulate, or quote with credit to The Agurban and Jack Schultz. If you enjoy The Agurban, please feel free to share it with other economic and community development professionals.

Visit the Boomtown Institute website at www.boomtowninstitute.com

Keep up with Jack as he tweets on Twitter.

Read past Agurbans at Agurban Archives.

To learn more about Agracel visit www.agracel.com.